Description:

01:013:145 / 01:563:145 “Introduction to Aramaic” aims to introduce students to the Aramaic language through Imperial Aramaic, which was one of the official languages of the Achaemenid Empire (550-330 BCE), and closely related dialects. The expansion of the Achaemenid Empire throughout the Middle East placed Aramaic into a privileged position as the lingua franca of the region, a position which it held for over a millennium, until the Islamic conquests of the region in the 7th century CE. Imperial Aramaic is the dialect in which the Aramaic (or “Chaldean”) portions of the Bible were composed, and also the dialect from which all subsequently attested dialects of Aramaic developed, including those still spoken by certain small communities of Jews, Christians, and Muslims in the Middle East and in diaspora throughout the world.

Learning Goals:

Upon completion of “Introduction to Aramaic,” students will be able to:

- demonstrate familiarity with the characters of the Aramaic alphabet and employ them in reading and writing;
- understand simple Aramaic texts that consist mainly of high frequency vocabulary, and more sophisticated literary prose with the aid of a dictionary; and
- write short, simple notes and messages in Aramaic.

Prerequisites:

None. Knowledge of another Semitic language (such as Biblical Aramaic, Arabic, and Hebrew) is helpful but not absolutely necessary.

Required Materials:

None. All course readings will be provided online.

Online Resources:

Masoretic Text of the Hebrew Bible <http://www.mechon-mamre.org/p/pt/pt0.htm>

The Comprehensive Aramaic Lexicon <http://cal.huc.edu/>

ETANA <http://www.etana.org/>

Digital Flash Cards <http://www.iflipr.com>

Grading Policy:

Student progress toward fulfilling the course learning goals will be periodically assessed through regular exercises, four vocabulary quizzes, two grammar exams, and one final exam.

Online Exercises20%

Each lesson concludes with a set of twenty “grammar-translation” exercises suitable for online instruction, which cultivate reading and writing abilities in the target language by building vocabulary and drilling the grammatical rules introduced in the lesson. These twenty exercises will be submitted online for evaluation (satisfactory or unsatisfactory) and feedback. Each satisfactorily completed exercise contributes one point towards the final grade.

Vocabulary Quizzes20%

During the course of the semester, I will administer four unannounced online quizzes consisting of randomized and timed identifications to assess vocabulary acquisition. Once assigned, these quizzes must be initiated within a 24 hour period.

Quiz 1	Aramaic to English	(5%)
Quiz 2	English to Aramaic	(5%)
Quiz 3	Aramaic to English	(5%)
Quiz 4	English to Aramaic	(5%)

Grammar Exams40%

On fixed dates within the fourth and eighth weeks of the semester, I will administer short online exams to assess student acquisition of grammar. These exams must be completed within a 24 hour period.

Midterm 1	Week 4	(20%)
Midterm 2	Week 8	(20%)

Final Exam20%

The final exam will assess student reading proficiency in Aramaic through close readings of passages in Biblical Aramaic.

Final Exam	40%
-------------------	-----

Total100%

Final exam dates and times are assigned by the Registrar and must conform to the University schedule. They will be announced at <http://finalexams.rutgers.edu/>.

Participation Policy:

Students are expected to read all lessons and complete the accompanying exercises in a timely manner; if you are unable to complete your exercises on time for any reason, please use the University absence reporting website <https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/> to indicate the date and reason for your inability to participate. An email is automatically sent to me. As the course is accelerated, any absences will present a serious challenge to fulfillment of the learning goals.

Please note: Students who report their inability to take a scheduled exam date may reschedule for the following week. Students who miss a scheduled exam date without reporting their absence will not have the opportunity to make up the exam. Unannounced (“pop”) quizzes are never eligible to be made up.

Academic Integrity:

Students taking “Introduction to Aramaic” abide by the Code of Student Conduct. I depart from the baseline assumption that you deserve my trust. Because knowledge of Aramaic is relatively uncommon, I have not taken any special precautions to ensure your identity beyond the immediate requirement to login to the course website with your unique RU NetID. Under the circumstances, questions may naturally arise as to what constitutes a breach of academic integrity within an online course and what does not.

I do not consider the use of paper or digital references in completing quizzes and tests to be a breach of academic integrity. I have designed all assigned tests and quizzes to be completed with the help of the full set of resources available to any translator working within Aramaic (grammars, dictionaries, online search tools, etc.).

I do consider the use of human resources to complete quizzes and tests to be a serious breach of academic integrity. This includes copying someone else’s answers (even though quiz and test questions are randomly drawn from a pool of such questions each time you take the quiz or test) and especially soliciting someone else’s aid to complete the test or quiz by assuming your ID online.

I will note any evidence of a breach of academic integrity and record it for potential disciplinary action, which may include a failing grade in this course and possibly even suspension or expulsion from the university.

Disabilities Policy:

The University disability policies and procedures are available at <http://disabilityservices.rutgers.edu/>. Students with disabilities who require accommodations must follow the procedures outlined at <http://disabilityservices.rutgers.edu/request.html>
